SUMMER VACATIONS

Summer is upon us and that means its time for summer vacations. I highly recommend them, though they can be a bit stressful at times. It is good for all of us to get away from our usual routine and travel to see family, friends, beautiful scenery, and new (or old and familiar) places.

As we travel, however, we must not forget our responsibilities to God, the church, and our home congregation remain with us. Here are some things to consider as you make your plans.

Be sure to attend church services while you are on vacation. Don't take a vacation from church. Meet and worship with brethren wherever you go. Enjoy, observe how they do things, and ask questions. You may be able to bring some good ideas home.

Don't forget the church back home. Life goes on. Your brothers and sisters continue to meet. Classes must still be taught. Bills must still be paid. So, remember your home church in your prayers, and be sure to give your contribution before you leave, or make it up when you return.

Remember that you are a Christian wherever you go. Christianity should not be taken off and left at home. A thing that is wrong at home is still wrong away from home. Represent Christ in a wonderful way wherever your vacation takes you.

Have a great vacation this summer. Sierra and I are planning ours. I can hardly wait.
