Fifteen Year Anniversary

Fifteen years ago, on January 27, 2008, the Seymour church of Christ met for the first time in the library across the street from our current location.

After that, the congregation met briefly in a member's home and then in a rented facility at Emert's Plaza, just off of Chilhowie School Road. Tim Shoulders, who was with the congregation since its beginning, served as the preacher until July of 2013.

Sierra and I moved back to Tennessee from Ohio to work with the congregation, beginning in August of 2013. Since August of 2014, the congregation has met in our current facilities at 269 Business Park Lane.

In the fifteen years, the Seymour congregation has come a long way. The congregation began with the financial help of the Nashville Road congregation in Nashville, which continued until just recently. It is now a Scripturally organized congregation with elders and deacons and is fully self-supporting.

Eyes are toward the future, as a lot adjoining our property has been purchased for future growth and building needs.

We would not want anyone to think these things are of our doing. Our members have given sacrificially and worked hard, but God has providentially blessed our efforts. Glory, honor, and praise belong to Him!

Let's continue to be people who are experiencing and sharing the transforming power of Jesus.
