I LOVE CHILDREN

One day this past week, I was in my office and Heather Fleenor was cleaning the building. That gave me an opportunity to visit with her daughter, Hazel, for a few minutes.

Hazel is three-years-old. She will be four in April. To say the least, she oozes cuteness, and she is so smart. She talked with me like a little grown up.

She knows many things about the Bible. She can recite the book of the Old Testament and New Testament. She can name the apostles. Now, she is working on the beatitudes. She told me where they are found in the New Testament, and she recited the first two. That's as far as she has gotten so far.

Her ability to do these things is a tribute to the teachers she has had here at Seymour. But, it is especially a tribute to her mother who works with her regularly.

I am reminded of Paul's words to and about Timothy in 2 Timothy 3:15, "And that from childhood you have known the Holy Scriptures, which are able to make you wise for salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus."

A couple of chapters earlier, Paul had said that the faith that was in Timothy had dwelt first "in your grandmother Lois and your mother Eunice" (2 Tim. 1:5).

Thanks for the visit, Hazel. You made my day. I'm proud of you.

And Jesus said unto the theologians,
"Who do you say that I am?"

They replied, "You are the eschatological manifestation of the ground of our being, the kerygma of which we find the ultimate meaning in our interpersonal relationships."

And Jesus said "...What?"
