THE CHURCH BULLETIN

I am one of those crazy preachers who actually enjoys putting out a weekly bulletin. My father disliked it greatly, but I did not inherit that from him.

At the beginning of this new year, there are some things I would like to say about our church bulletin.

First, I ask you to read it. It takes me some time each week to collect announcements, write my article, put the schedule on the back page, find pictures and cartoons for the front and back page, print, and fold the bulletin. So, take a few minutes each week to read the article, note the announcements, and check the schedule on the back page. Doing that makes the time I put into the bulletin worthwhile.

Second, provide announcements in writing. Sometimes people verbally give me an announcement while I am trying to greet people. Others give them out loud at the beginning of the services, and I don't hear them. We provide cards and pencils in each pew rack. Please take a moment to write your announcement legibly and give it to me.

Third, please forgive the mistakes you find. Yes, I do make mistakes. I sometimes get the information wrong, misspell a name, or make a typo. Furthermore, some announcements are out-of-date by the time you read them. Please be kind when you point out a mistake.

By the way, one of my resolutions for 2002 is to make fewer mistakes in the bulletin in the future?
