1 CORINTHIANS 13:7 (NRSV)

Person to Person . . .

Tom Miller

I LOVE CHILDREN

I have written under this heading before, and here we go again.

Last Sunday evening, after the sermon and invitation song, I expressed appreciation to those who were working on the landscaping in front of the building to make it look for appealing. I especially mentioned Kim Wheeler (AKA “Mrs. Kim), who had planted some flowers that she brought from her yard.

Immediately, some of her little helpers let me know they had been involved, too. I thanked them and started back the aisle.

Jase, one of Barbara Potter’s children, slid across the pew and said something I did not understand. I stopped and asked what he had said. He said, “I love you.” I hugged him, and of course, I replied, “I love you, too.”

It was one of those moments. A sweet child spoke from his heart. Tim Wheeler, who was leading singing that evening said, “I’m not going to interrupt that.” He understood the beauty of the moment, too.

Let’s not be afraid to express our love and appreciation for one another. “By this all will know that you are My disciples, if you have love for one another” (John 13:35).

And Jase, in case you have forgotten, I love you, as I do all of our sweet, wonderful children.

FAMILY MATTERS

PRAYER LIST— Jim Husband is at home and is very weak. He is on a feeding tube. He and Barbara covet and appreciate our prayers. . . . It was good to see Jeff Cronin at services last Sunday morning. He has several doctor's appointment scheduled in an attempt to find out exactly what he is dealing with. . . . Jeff Whitaker continues to improve following his recent stroke, and we are thankful. . . . Donna Lane was able to be at services last Sunday for the first time following her knee surgery. . . . Butch Potter had two cancerous spots removed from his head. His dementia is getting worse, and Leisa requests' prayer for him, her, and his doctors. . . . Jessica Spears had the dreaded stomach bug this past week. We missed her at Bible study on Wednesday evening. . . . Karlie Sergent asked for the prayers of the church last Sunday morning that people would love one another more. As a young person, she has come to realize that people don't always act in loving ways toward one another. Prayers and blessings, sweet girl.
