OUT OF THE MOUTHS OF BABES

It's a true story.

A Bible class teacher of preschoolers asked her students how their week had been. She specifically asked, “Were you good boys and girls this past week?”

One young fella answered, ‘I was good this past week, and so were my mommy and daddy.’”

I can't help but wonder what was behind that. Were his parents not usually good? Was this an anomaly?

Whatever was behind that answer, it reminds us of one important thing for parents—and all of us—to remember. Children see and hear more than we think they do. They know if we've been naughty or nice.

Speaking directly to fathers, Paul wrote, “And you, fathers, do not provoke your children to wrath, but bring them up in the training and admonition of the Lord” (Eph. 6:4).

May all of us be sure to set the right example for those little eyes who see what we do and those little ears to hear what we say.

“And whatever you do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through Him” (Colossians 3:17).
